

The pain of child birth is nothing compared to what these mums
are forced to endure.

A plea to all women. Please help end this barbaric imprisonment.

The Australian intensive pig industry has much to hide. They treat female pigs as breeding machines forced to endure a cycle of suffering and deprivation.

Throughout Australia, some 200,000 pregnant pigs spend most of their lives confined in tiny metal stalls. Exercise is not permitted. This practice has been banned in Britain.

Their 'nursery' would outrage every mother. The female pig is forced to give birth in a barren metal crate.

She has no bedding or straw, so her piglets are born on a hard floor. Nurturing her young is impossible as a cruel metal frame imprisons her.

Profit drives this industry. It is culpable of horrendous suffering.

You alone have the power to end this barbaric industry once and for all.

Tell your supermarket manager and butcher that you won't purchase intensively farmed pork, ham or bacon.

For a savebabe.com action pack, contact Animals Australia.

Cruelty - don't buy it!
www.savebabe.com

 animals
australia
the voice for animals