Kindness makes a better burger at Hungry Jack's:
- Sow-stall free pork
- Cage-free eggs

Petition to Hungry Jack's:

Consumers Against Pig Cruelty

In response to consumer demand, Hungry Jack's' international parent company Burger King has announced that it has begun to phase-out the use of pig products from facilities using sow-stalls and of eggs from caged hens in its American stores and is replacing its current supplies with pork and eggs produced in more humane conditions.

As Australian consumers, we the undersigned, call on Hungry Jack's to implement a similar policy to that of your international parent company Burger King in the United States, and commit to a phase-out of pork products from facilities that use sow-stalls and of eggs produced by hens in battery cages, with a view to total replacement of current cruelly-produced products.

NAME	ADDRESS	SIGNATURE	Tick here to be kept informed

Please return to Animals Australia, who will send to Hungry Jack's Pty Ltd:
Animals Australia - 37 O'Connell St - North Melbourne - 3051 - VIC
Tel: 1800 888 584 - enquiries@animalsaustralia.org - www.animalsaustralia.org

Animals Australia
the voice for animals

Save Babe - Make the Pro Pig Pledge!
www.savebabe.com